Mono Roofing was called to solve the problem. Greg and I looked at the roof very critically. Upon close examination, we suspected that the feet of a ladder or ladders, had possibly damaged the roof membrane in a number of places.

Greg sent his crew to investigate and solve the problem. They found that a ladder's claw feet had broken through the old patch at the West drain scupper in a number of places. The damage was repaired. We have had a few strong rains and it appears that there is no more water seepage into the ceiling area. I pray that the problem that I have been battling for years has been solved.

I feel Greg Kirby and his crew at Mono Roofing have done an excellent job in solving my roofing problem. I recommend them highly. I will use them again because of the confidence they have built with me, and the skill with which they solved my flat roof leaking problem.

Sincerely:
